A Spanish technology centre is preparing a project proposal to the H2020 call CE-BIOTEC-08-2020. The technology proposed is focused on different nano strategies to be combined with bioremediation technologies in order to remove several contaminants (inorganic and/or organic pollutants). The technologies developed will be tested in a pilot by analyzing 3-5 tonnes of contaminated soil. Partners needed: companies working in biotechnologies and bioremediation and experts on soil pollutants removal.
